Residential Water Audit

A certified auditor from Energy New England is available to come to your home at your convenience to help you understand your water use and where you might most effectively conserve water. Small changes to fixtures in your bathroom and kitchen and can result in both water conservation and savings on your water bills.

Irrigation Water Audit

With warmer weather coming, outdoor conservation efforts come more into focus. Please remember that lawns that turn brown in the heat of July and August are not dead – they are just dormant and will green up as soon as moister weather returns. With the help of ENE's irrigation advisor you can learn to adjust your irrigation schedule. You can also consider making changes to your yard, such as replacing turf area with mulch beds of native plantings, which consume a fraction of the water required by turf.

This FREE service is open to a limited number of customers on a first-come, first-serve basis provided to you by the Town of Sharon Water Department
