New Water Conservation Program in Sharon

The Town of Sharon has recently received a grant from the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection for a one year water conservation program to reduce residential water consumption. A water conservation plan will be drafted to assist the Town in meeting water conservation goals. The program also includes development of a water conservation curriculum within the Sharon schools, outreach to civic groups, boards and committees, retrofitting of municipal buildings with low flow toilets, installation of water saving irrigation systems, and general education about water saving practices through newspaper columns and the internet. The Town has partnered with the Neponset River Watershed Association to help facilitate the grant and has hired a Water Conservation Coordinator to assist in the program. For more information contact Nancy Fyler at 781-575-0354 x307 or go to www.neponset.org. Water conservation information for Sharon residents can also be found at the Town of Sharon website at www.townofsharon.net.
