

Lake Management Study Committee

7 January 2014

This was not an official meeting as it was not posted in time.
However Cliff towner did take the opportunity to update the group
on a number of issues:

Con-Com now up to date on all issues.

the asian clams are now dead.

Came into the lake via a jetski at a private launch.

they were also detected down massapoag brook.

Jetskis hold about a gallon of water in their pumps.

and have also carries zebra mussels.

Cliff will recommend a ban on jetskis and private launches.

The pedestrian gates at memorial beach will be locked again
but cannot get an answer as to why.

Mass Fish and Game reports all other lakes are getting weeded over.

Fanwort has been repoted on both west and east sides of massapoag.
anchors of incoming boats are suspected.

Water budget for the lake is already low.
nutrients very poor for 2013, both fish and mussels are dying.

ceder swamy rehab continues.

levels are starting to come up.

did not go dry in 2013.
